

19. AALE Conference

08. - 10. March 2023, BTS CBC Luxembourg

Call for Papers – Save the Date

The conference "Applied Automation in Teaching and Development" will take place in 2023 in Luxembourg-City and provides a platform to discuss and display innovative approaches in the field of automation technology in industrial automation as well as building automation. Please submit your contribution (full or poster contribution) and report about the

Leading theme of the AALE 2023

„Deploying Automation against climate change“

Report about

- >Trends and applications
- >Research and development work
- >Teaching and Training, Didactics, MINT projects
- >Cooperation between Higher Education and industry

Main focus areas

Smart Production (Industrie 4.0, IIoT, IT- und OT-Security) and adjacent subject areas

Smart Buildings & Cities (Energy management, Cybersecurity, V2x) and adjacent subject areas

Conventional automation

Accompanying trade exhibition

Notable manufacturers / producers (supra-regional as well as regional) present trends, current products and solutions related to automation and didactics.

Contributions and Proceedings

The abstract should encompass 2 DIN-A4-pages max (presentation and discussion combined 20 min max)

All submitted abstracts (Full or poster contributions) will be examined in a peer-review-process by at least 3 experts.

All contributions must be submitted in digital form into the conference management system ConfTOOL <http://www.conftool.org/aale2023>. The templates can be found on the AALE 2023 website www.aale2023.lu

All accepted contributions will be digitally published in the corresponding conference proceedings

Student award

At the 19th AALE Conference 2023 outstanding Bachelor, Master and diploma papers from university or higher education institutions students will be awarded an AALE Student award each. Eligible are all graduates of higher education institutions of applied sciences who in the years 2021 or 2022 produced a final thesis in the field of or related to automation.

<http://www.conftool.org/aale2023>

Important dates

- 04.10.2022 Deadline for abstracts of the contributions
- 31.10.2022 Announcement of the results of the reviews
- 15.12.2022 Submissions of nominations for the student award
- 16.12.2022 Submissions of the print-ready contributions

Contact:

Conference management: André SCHWARZ, coordinator of BTS CBC study program

More information is available on the site www.aale2023.lu or via mail: contact@aale2023.lu

Venue/ Meeting place:

Campus Geesknäppchen 40, bvd. Pierre Dupont L-1430 Luxembourg

